INFORMATION FOR APPLICANT
13.	Brief Description of the Assignment	Design, develop and successfully commission a visually aesthetic, informative and responsive web site that gives credible information to all public, private organizations and individuals regarding BUP. The main reason to change the theme and backend of the website is currently it looks bit monotonous to the intended users, because all the web pages are looks like same and now BUP authority wants to bring new themes and/or templates for each and every feature and also, we want to change the website development language to php/framework instead of existing language. In the backend currently we are using two APIs for getting data from other applications. BUP may increase API connectivity including development of the new website. Another reason to change the website is that BUP has a plan to change the themes every year without changing the databases and APIs, so that the intended users will get aesthetic feelings over the new design.
